REPORT OF SCHOOL BOARD.

Hollis, N. H., January 31, 1920.

The new educational bill passed at the last session of the legislature, has in many ways changed our school system.

Hollis has been transferred from the Milford District to the new Supervisory Union No. 27, comprising Hudson, Hollis, Pelham, Merrimac and Litchfield. At a meeting of the Union in June, Mr. Lewis DeWit Record was chosen superintendent for the year ensuing, and the school work accomplished has been very satisfactory.

The former lunch room has been fitted for a school room, but is only a temporary arrangement as it is too small to meet required regulations. This room should be enlarged or a new one or two room building erected on the school grounds. The northeast corner of the building has been converted into a lunchroom.

By adding another teacher to our village staff we have been able to divide the grades, having at present two grades in each room.

An increase in salaries, one more teacher, a state tax on each pupil, together with the necessary repairs, and three weeks added to our school year, caused by enforced closing of schools the fall previous on account of the epidemic have left a small balance in the treasury.

REPORT OF SUPERINTENDENT OF SCHOOLS

To the School Board of Hollis:

Greeting:

Though the school year does not end until August 31, I am respectfully submitting to you at this time and through you to the people of your community some suggestions with regard to your schools.

In the administration of our public schools, the electors of the district as voters, you as board members, and myself as a superintendent, are working under an entirely different statute than in past years. The act of our last legislature, entitled "An act in Amendment of the Laws Relating to the Public Schools and Establishing a State Board of Education," virtually established a state system of schools, in the local administration of which it is the privilege and duty of the three above named parties to participate. As I understand the law, its object is threefold, viz., to unify and standardize the schools of the state, to Americanize the alien born citizen, and to equalize, within certain limits, the financial burden of the public school system.

This statute requires that there be maintained in each school district of the state standard elementary schools for thirty-six weeks in each year in suitable and sanitary buildings, equipped with approved furniture, books, maps, and other necessary appliances, taught by an approved teacher, directed and supervised by an approved superintendent, and with suitable provision for the care of the health and physical welfare of all the pupils.

During the summer the state board caused to be sent out to the various school districts regulations governing the temporary approval of schoolhouses. Regulations have also been adopted and distributed for the proper care of the health of the pupils and minimum requirements for the work of the lowest three grades. Certain standards have been fixed for the certification of our teachers and superintendents. The work of Americanization has up to the present time been left mainly to the disposition and honesty of the various school districts to carry out the spirit of the law. The state board is now laboring with an inadequate appropriation to equalize the financial burden of maintaining the public school system.

So much for the activities of the state board in carrying out the provisions of the statute, but what is of more concern to us, how do we propose to fulfil the trust imposed upon us by this law which is receiving so much favorable comment.

The citizen who so regulates his conduct as to conform to his legal obligations to the point only that will avoid legal penalty, is not regarded by us as an exemplary citizen. No more should that school district be considered exemplary which meets only the requirements of the act and the regulations of the state board. Indeed, the school district which will meet only the minimum standards set up by the state in the schools in which are educated its own offspring, cannot but blush for its lack of public spirit. There are but few school districts in the state which, knowing the facts in the case, would be placed voluntarily in this class, surely not the school district of Hollis.

In the housing of our school children the statute makes the general demand that the buildings shall be "suitable and sanitary" and the state board, in the exercise of its legal functions, has made this demand specific. In a recent survey of one and two room schoolhouses, which survey and report were required by the state board, the report from this school district was especially gratifying. To be sure, I had but one such schoolhouse in this town to report upon, but that report showed the building to be close to the ideal rural schoolhouse. Although the requirements of the state board for the approval of schoolhouses will be progressive, approaching ideal conditions in a few years, the Pine Hill school will never require remodelling. It is unfortunate that a like report cannot be given, when required, of the village school building. The room prepared last summer for grades V and VI can not be considered other than a temporary arrangement. Almost every thing about the room is wrong, except the lighting. The room is too small, without adequate blackboard space or ventilation. In using the windows for this purpose, an expediency which cannot be avoided, some of the children are exposed to dangerous drafts. The other rooms of this building are passible as for as present state requirements are concerned. The progressive demands of the state board will doubtless require within a few years that the lighting of some of the rooms be made more adequate. In the very near future the toilets will have to be reconstructed on a different plan with either a flush system or chemical vaults. The heating, though, adequate is unsatisfactory in many ways. In fact, the building is one of the kind that a town is unfortunate in possessing, a little too good to abandon and not good enough for the purpose to which it is put.

The shortage in teachers has become decidedly alarming. The tremendous struggle to engage enough teachers to open all the schools this fall cannot but substantially raise the price of teaching. It is even desirable that such should be the case, for if teachers' wages are not sufficiently raised to attract more to the profession, our educational system must suffer a most serious set-back because of the lowering the quality of the teaching force. If the state appropriation is not sufficient to warrant a general raise in wages, the several school districts should protect themselves by raising an emergency fund, to be used only in event of the state appropriation proving insufficient, that they may be able to meet this added expense. I believe the people of Hollis want good schools and would be willing to tax themselves beyond the $5 per $1000 levy rather than to see their schools deteriorate.

Your teaching force is on the whole the best that I have in this union, and as a result, your schools will compare favorably with the school system in any other of the towns. Your teachers should be retained another year and a living wage should be paid to each member of the staff. The purchasing power of the dollar has certainly fallen off one half or more in the last few years and there is no prospect in sight of it ever again attaining its old standard. We must learn to appreciate the dollar at its new standard of value in all things. Teachers' salaries should be at least double what they were a few years ago, as far as the number of dollars is concerned.

It is gratifying that your school district had committed itself in favor of medical inspection before the new educational bill required that there be made "suitable provision for the care of the health and physical welfare of all the pupils." The physical examinations of your school children has been made this year and the results recorded on the individual cards kept for the purpose. Though improvement was noted in some cases by the correcting of remedial defects, I am of the opinion that a more careful follow-up system should be provided. For the first time this health work has this year been state wide, and we may confidently expect that there will be a general campaign to overcome all remedial defects in the school children of this state.

During the summer the state board of education adopted the 1916 edition of state program of studies as the program for all the elementary schools of this state. The only changes that have been made in your curriculum this year are some modifications in the work of grades seven and eight so as to make it conform more nearly with the required program.

With hearty thanks for the hearty cooperation of the board, for the loyalty of the teachers, and the consideration of the public that I have enjoyed, since assuming my duties with you, this report is,

Respectfully submitted,

LOUIS DE WITT RECORD.
